

PEOPLE AND CULTURE COMMITTEE CHARTER

1. COMPOSITION

The People and Culture Committee (Committee) shall be structured so that it has at least three members, all of whom are non-executive directors and the majority being independent Directors. The Committee shall be chaired by an independent director.

Where the Committee includes an executive director (only if permitted under the ASX Listing Rules), they must not be involved in deciding their own remuneration and must be alive to the potential conflict of interest in being involved in setting the remuneration for other executives that may indirectly affect their own (e.g. through setting a benchmark or because of relativities).

From time to time, non-Committee members may be invited to attend meetings of the Committee, if it is considered appropriate.

2. ROLE

3. OPERATIONS

The Committee shall meet at least once a year and otherwise as required to, among other duties, set and measure performance hurdles for senior executives.

Minutes of all meetings of the Committee must be kept. The minutes must be tabled at a subsequent meeting of the full Board, and a report of actions taken by the Committee also given by the Chair of the Committee at subsequent meetings of the full Board.

Committee meetings will be governed by the same rules as set out in the Company's Constitution, as they apply to meetings of the Board.

4. RESPONSIBILITIES

The responsibilities of the Committee in relation to remuneration include a review of, and recommendation to the Board on:

- a) the Company's Remuneration Policy and its ongoing appropriateness and relevance;

- a) regularly review the size and composition of the Board and consider any appropriate changes;

4.1 EXECUTIVE REMUNERATION

In formulating the Company's Remuneration Policy and levels of remuneration for senior executives, the Committee makes recommendations to balance:

- h) its desire to attract, retain and motivate executive directors and senior executives who will perform critical roles in the Company's development;
- i) the need to ensure that the incentives for executive directors and senior executives encourage them to pursue and achieve individual goals related to their respective roles and responsibilities and group goals designed to promote teamwork across the executive management team and result in the growth and success of the Company (both in the short term and over the longer term) without taking undue risks;

- c) non-executive directors are not entitled to participate in equity-based remuneration schemes designed for executives without due consideration and appropriate disclosure to the Company's shareholders, and any incentives must not conflict with the non-executive director's obligation to bring an independent judgment to matters before the Board.

The Committee may have regard to the guidelines for non-executive director remuneration within the ASX Principles and Recommendations in formulating its non-executive director remuneration policies and practices.

To the extent that the Company adopts an approach to non-executive director remuneration that is not in accordance with the guidelines referred to above, the Committee shall document its reasons for the purpose of disclosure to stakeholders.
